

POLITICAL GOSSIP

How Independent Voters Can Be Heard at Primary.

May Use Blank Ballot or Name by Petition.

JACKSON'S OPINION.

Names of Members of Opposing Party Can't Be Written In.

Col. Bill Hackney Is Stirring Up Things in Cowley.

There are two ways for "independent" voters, who claim allegiance to no party, to get their candidates on the general election ballot through the primary election route.

First—By using the blank ballot provided at the primary.

Second—By nominating candidates by petition, exactly as may be done under existing statutes.

This is the gist of an opinion given out by Attorney General Jackson concerning the operation of the new primary law. It was called forth by questions propounded by "Dave" Blaine of Pratt, who, as an independent candidate, was elected to the legislature at the last election.

The attorney general calls attention to this important fact: A candidate whose name is on any party ticket can not be voted for except by using that party ticket. For example, if a Republican who is not satisfied with any of the candidates whose names are printed on the Republican ballot, so that they may write the names of other Republicans on the ballot. It may also happen, and is very likely to happen, especially in township elections, that no person has taken the trouble to circulate a sufficient number of petitions to get his name printed on his party ticket. And I appreciate that a great number of offices, even on the party tickets of the leading political parties of the state, will be in blank on August 4. For all such cases the blank space in the party ticket will be most convenient, so that with little or no trouble the members of each political party on primary day can write in the names and vote for persons to be nominated for all the offices at the general election. Of course these remarks are as applicable to the Democratic party, the Socialist party, or the Prohibition party. "Another question is asked in regard to the blank lines in the party ballots, which question may be framed thus: 'Could a Democrat, who was dissatisfied with the candidates for the nomination for a certain office in his own party, vote for a person who is running for the nomination for the same office on the Republican party?'

"He can not. It is no business of the Democrats who is nominated by the Democrats, and it is no business of the Republicans who is nominated by the Republicans, and so the primary law provides that where a person writes the name on his ticket of a candidate on another party ticket, such person thereby destroys his ballot and it shall not be counted. See sec. 10, subdivision of the primary law.

"It is true that it may happen that a person might be nominated on two tickets by having his name written in as a candidate on two different party tickets. In such case, it would be his duty to choose upon which ticket he would run, and if he did not, the state canvassing board, or the county clerk, would have to make a choice for him.

"Now to the nomination of independent candidates: There are really two ways, one by the use of the blank ballot and the other by circulating petitions as heretofore under the Australian ballot law. The advantage of the blank ticket plan is that an aggregation of independent voters, such as you say you have in Pratt county, may go to the polls on the primary election day, and put on the independent ticket by using the blank ticket. The persons receiving the highest number of votes on such blank ticket will become independent candidates for the offices for which they are nominated, and their names will be printed in the independent column of the Australian ballot at the general election. The primary law especially saves the right of citizens to secure places on the general election ballot at the November election by circulating petitions for independent nominations as heretofore under the general statutes. But he could write in the name of some other Republican.

General Jackson says: "The blank lines on the Republican ticket are for the convenience of Republicans who are not satisfied with any of the candidates whose names are printed on the Republican ballot, so that they may write the names of other Republicans on the ballot. It may also happen, and is very likely to happen, especially in township elections, that no person has taken the trouble to circulate a sufficient number of petitions to get his name printed on his party ticket. And I appreciate that a great number of offices, even on the party tickets of the leading political parties of the state, will be in blank on August 4. For all such cases the blank space in the party ticket will be most convenient, so that with little or no trouble the members of each political party on primary day can write in the names and vote for persons to be nominated for all the offices at the general election. Of course these remarks are as applicable to the Democratic party, the Socialist party, or the Prohibition party. "Another question is asked in regard to the blank lines in the party ballots, which question may be framed thus: 'Could a Democrat, who was dissatisfied with the candidates for the nomination for a certain office in his own party, vote for a person who is running for the nomination for the same office on the Republican party?'

"He can not. It is no business of the Democrats who is nominated by the Democrats, and it is no business of the Republicans who is nominated by the Republicans, and so the primary law provides that where a person writes the name on his ticket of a candidate on another party ticket, such person thereby destroys his ballot and it shall not be counted. See sec. 10, subdivision of the primary law.

"It is true that it may happen that a person might be nominated on two tickets by having his name written in as a candidate on two different party tickets. In such case, it would be his duty to choose upon which ticket he would run, and if he did not, the state canvassing board, or the county

The Most Exclusive Lawn Tennis Court in the World.

The above picture of the White House tennis court was recently taken. In this court President Roosevelt and his friends pass many a pleasant hour and popular with the more athletically inclined.

House tennis court was recently taken. In this court President Roosevelt and his friends pass many a pleasant hour and popular with the more athletically inclined.

clerk, would have to make a choice for him.

"Now to the nomination of independent candidates: There are really two ways, one by the use of the blank ballot and the other by circulating petitions as heretofore under the Australian ballot law. The advantage of the blank ticket plan is that an aggregation of independent voters, such as you say you have in Pratt county, may go to the polls on the primary election day, and put on the independent ticket by using the blank ticket. The persons receiving the highest number of votes on such blank ticket will become independent candidates for the offices for which they are nominated, and their names will be printed in the independent column of the Australian ballot at the general election. The primary law especially saves the right of citizens to secure places on the general election ballot at the November election by circulating petitions for independent nominations as heretofore under the general statutes. But he could write in the name of some other Republican.

General Jackson says: "The blank lines on the Republican ticket are for the convenience of Republicans who are not satisfied with any of the candidates whose names are printed on the Republican ballot, so that they may write the names of other Republicans on the ballot. It may also happen, and is very likely to happen, especially in township elections, that no person has taken the trouble to circulate a sufficient number of petitions to get his name printed on his party ticket. And I appreciate that a great number of offices, even on the party tickets of the leading political parties of the state, will be in blank on August 4. For all such cases the blank space in the party ticket will be most convenient, so that with little or no trouble the members of each political party on primary day can write in the names and vote for persons to be nominated for all the offices at the general election. Of course these remarks are as applicable to the Democratic party, the Socialist party, or the Prohibition party. "Another question is asked in regard to the blank lines in the party ballots, which question may be framed thus: 'Could a Democrat, who was dissatisfied with the candidates for the nomination for a certain office in his own party, vote for a person who is running for the nomination for the same office on the Republican party?'

"He can not. It is no business of the Democrats who is nominated by the Democrats, and it is no business of the Republicans who is nominated by the Republicans, and so the primary law provides that where a person writes the name on his ticket of a candidate on another party ticket, such person thereby destroys his ballot and it shall not be counted. See sec. 10, subdivision of the primary law.

"It is true that it may happen that a person might be nominated on two tickets by having his name written in as a candidate on two different party tickets. In such case, it would be his duty to choose upon which ticket he would run, and if he did not, the state canvassing board, or the county clerk, would have to make a choice for him.

"Now to the nomination of independent candidates: There are really two ways, one by the use of the blank ballot and the other by circulating petitions as heretofore under the Australian ballot law. The advantage of the blank ticket plan is that an aggregation of independent voters, such as you say you have in Pratt county, may go to the polls on the primary election day, and put on the independent ticket by using the blank ticket. The persons receiving the highest number of votes on such blank ticket will become independent candidates for the offices for which they are nominated, and their names will be printed in the independent column of the Australian ballot at the general election. The primary law especially saves the right of citizens to secure places on the general election ballot at the November election by circulating petitions for independent nominations as heretofore under the general statutes. But he could write in the name of some other Republican.

General Jackson says: "The blank lines on the Republican ticket are for the convenience of Republicans who are not satisfied with any of the candidates whose names are printed on the Republican ballot, so that they may write the names of other Republicans on the ballot. It may also happen, and is very likely to happen, especially in township elections, that no person has taken the trouble to circulate a sufficient number of petitions to get his name printed on his party ticket. And I appreciate that a great number of offices, even on the party tickets of the leading political parties of the state, will be in blank on August 4. For all such cases the blank space in the party ticket will be most convenient, so that with little or no trouble the members of each political party on primary day can write in the names and vote for persons to be nominated for all the offices at the general election. Of course these remarks are as applicable to the Democratic party, the Socialist party, or the Prohibition party. "Another question is asked in regard to the blank lines in the party ballots, which question may be framed thus: 'Could a Democrat, who was dissatisfied with the candidates for the nomination for a certain office in his own party, vote for a person who is running for the nomination for the same office on the Republican party?'

"He can not. It is no business of the Democrats who is nominated by the Democrats, and it is no business of the Republicans who is nominated by the Republicans, and so the primary law provides that where a person writes the name on his ticket of a candidate on another party ticket, such person thereby destroys his ballot and it shall not be counted. See sec. 10, subdivision of the primary law.

"It is true that it may happen that a person might be nominated on two tickets by having his name written in as a candidate on two different party tickets. In such case, it would be his duty to choose upon which ticket he would run, and if he did not, the state canvassing board, or the county clerk, would have to make a choice for him.

"Now to the nomination of independent candidates: There are really two ways, one by the use of the blank ballot and the other by circulating petitions as heretofore under the Australian ballot law. The advantage of the blank ticket plan is that an aggregation of independent voters, such as you say you have in Pratt county, may go to the polls on the primary election day, and put on the independent ticket by using the blank ticket. The persons receiving the highest number of votes on such blank ticket will become independent candidates for the offices for which they are nominated, and their names will be printed in the independent column of the Australian ballot at the general election. The primary law especially saves the right of citizens to secure places on the general election ballot at the November election by circulating petitions for independent nominations as heretofore under the general statutes. But he could write in the name of some other Republican.

General Jackson says: "The blank lines on the Republican ticket are for the convenience of Republicans who are not satisfied with any of the candidates whose names are printed on the Republican ballot, so that they may write the names of other Republicans on the ballot. It may also happen, and is very likely to happen, especially in township elections, that no person has taken the trouble to circulate a sufficient number of petitions to get his name printed on his party ticket. And I appreciate that a great number of offices, even on the party tickets of the leading political parties of the state, will be in blank on August 4. For all such cases the blank space in the party ticket will be most convenient, so that with little or no trouble the members of each political party on primary day can write in the names and vote for persons to be nominated for all the offices at the general election. Of course these remarks are as applicable to the Democratic party, the Socialist party, or the Prohibition party. "Another question is asked in regard to the blank lines in the party ballots, which question may be framed thus: 'Could a Democrat, who was dissatisfied with the candidates for the nomination for a certain office in his own party, vote for a person who is running for the nomination for the same office on the Republican party?'

"He can not. It is no business of the Democrats who is nominated by the Democrats, and it is no business of the Republicans who is nominated by the Republicans, and so the primary law provides that where a person writes the name on his ticket of a candidate on another party ticket, such person thereby destroys his ballot and it shall not be counted. See sec. 10, subdivision of the primary law.

"It is true that it may happen that a person might be nominated on two tickets by having his name written in as a candidate on two different party tickets. In such case, it would be his duty to choose upon which ticket he would run, and if he did not, the state canvassing board, or the county clerk, would have to make a choice for him.

"Now to the nomination of independent candidates: There are really two ways, one by the use of the blank ballot and the other by circulating petitions as heretofore under the Australian ballot law. The advantage of the blank ticket plan is that an aggregation of independent voters, such as you say you have in Pratt county, may go to the polls on the primary election day, and put on the independent ticket by using the blank ticket. The persons receiving the highest number of votes on such blank ticket will become independent candidates for the offices for which they are nominated, and their names will be printed in the independent column of the Australian ballot at the general election. The primary law especially saves the right of citizens to secure places on the general election ballot at the November election by circulating petitions for independent nominations as heretofore under the general statutes. But he could write in the name of some other Republican.

General Jackson says: "The blank lines on the Republican ticket are for the convenience of Republicans who are not satisfied with any of the candidates whose names are printed on the Republican ballot, so that they may write the names of other Republicans on the ballot. It may also happen, and is very likely to happen, especially in township elections, that no person has taken the trouble to circulate a sufficient number of petitions to get his name printed on his party ticket. And I appreciate that a great number of offices, even on the party tickets of the leading political parties of the state, will be in blank on August 4. For all such cases the blank space in the party ticket will be most convenient, so that with little or no trouble the members of each political party on primary day can write in the names and vote for persons to be nominated for all the offices at the general election. Of course these remarks are as applicable to the Democratic party, the Socialist party, or the Prohibition party. "Another question is asked in regard to the blank lines in the party ballots, which question may be framed thus: 'Could a Democrat, who was dissatisfied with the candidates for the nomination for a certain office in his own party, vote for a person who is running for the nomination for the same office on the Republican party?'

"He can not. It is no business of the Democrats who is nominated by the Democrats, and it is no business of the Republicans who is nominated by the Republicans, and so the primary law provides that where a person writes the name on his ticket of a candidate on another party ticket, such person thereby destroys his ballot and it shall not be counted. See sec. 10, subdivision of the primary law.

"It is true that it may happen that a person might be nominated on two tickets by having his name written in as a candidate on two different party tickets. In such case, it would be his duty to choose upon which ticket he would run, and if he did not, the state canvassing board, or the county

WANTS AND MISCELLANEOUS ADS.

WANTED—MALE HELP.

OF ALL KINDS SECURED BY THE USE OF THE LITTLE HELP WANTED JOURNAL ADS. EVERYBODY READS THEM. INCLUDING YOURSELF.

WANTED—White boy over 16 years at 718 Kansas ave.

WANTED—A chore boy about seventeen. J. M. Meade, Fillmore and Crane.

WANTED—Man at livery barn 517 W. 10th st. Stanley.

WANTED—Farm hands, dairy hands, farm couple, man and wife cooks, men cooks, arm waiters, solicitors, delivery driver. Cap. Emp. Agency, 811 Kan. ave.

WANTED—Experienced grocery clerk, married man preferred, $12 per week; good advancement for meritorious work. State age when applying. Address Special, care Journal.

SALESMAN wanted to call on physicians, a very exceptional opportunity is offered for immediate work. State age and experience. Lock box 121, Philadelphia.

SOMEWHERE there is a position for you. Will pay $25 per week. HAP-GOODS, 620 R. A. Long bldg., Kan. City.

WANTED—Men to write ball insurance, good territory, reliable company. 532 Kansas ave.

WANTED—FEMALE HELP.

STEINOGRAHER—DOMESTIC OR WAITRESS.

IN FACT ANY KIND OF FEMALE HELP YOU MAY NEED. THE POSITION WILL BE FILLING. IF YOU ARE DESIRABLE PEOPLE, IF YOUR AD APPEARS HERE.

WANTED—Woman cook and dishwasher, white or colored, for out-of-town; 3 farm hands $25 per month. Call 419 Kansas ave. Ind. phone 148.

WANTED—Woman cook $40 mo. $5 exp. experienced waitresses, $30 to 40 mo.; and transportation, for 15 states; house girls, $4 to $5 week, hotel maids. Furman, MIKA.

—WOMAN WANTED—WHITE STAR LAUNDRY.

WANTED—Experienced cook, family of 4, good wages, no washing. 515 Buchanan st. Both phones.

WANTED—Experienced housekeeper by widower. Call or write D. B. Anderson, 2429 Clay st.

WANTED—A dining room girl Topeka hotel, 122 W. 6th st.

WANTED—Girl for department store. State age; references. Merchant Journal.

WANTED—Girl for general housework 437 Monroe st.

WANTED—An experienced white girl for general housework; to washing; have man for heavy work. Best wages. References desired. 701 Taylor st.

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—Work at THE NEW TIN SHOP, anything in tin, steel, iron, copper or brass. Specialties manufactured. W. S. Anderson, 122 W. 6th st., between Quincy and Monroe. Bell 61.

WANTED—100 second hand row boats. Pratt Bros., North Topeka.

WANTED—Horses and cattle to pasture. G. W. Fultz, Berryton, Ind. Exchange.

WANTED—Cement walks and concrete work at surplus price. Send card to J. M. Brain, 301 Stephens st.

WE PAY highest cash prices for your cast off clothing, shoes, hats and overcoats. Drop us a card or call ind. phone 153. Abe Jacobson, 509 Kan. ave.

WANTED—Day boarders 1000 Topeka ave. McMormick Rug Factory, Phone 421.

WANTED—To buy any old carpets. O. McMormick Rug Factory, Phone 421.

WANTED—Veal calves and fat cows. H. M. Bush, Ind. phone 2214. 1610 E. 3rd st.

WE PAY highest cash price for your cast off clothing, shoes, hats and overcoats. Drop us a card or call ind. phone 1079. Gordon Bros., 435 Kansas ave.

WANTED—SALESMEN.

SALESMEN wanted sell retail trade your locality. $65 per month and expenses to twelve combats took place in the twenty-four hours. Jena's greatest number for the day is twenty-one. The German empire has about 4,000 duels a year; France has about 1,000 combats which may be regarded as such. Italy runs to about 270 per annum. In ten years it boasted of 2,750 meetings of which 974 originated in newspaper articles or public letters. The great majority of the duels were fought with swords; only one with revolvers. Fall Mail Gazette.

Presence of Mind.

The victory of Christchurch at Oxford recalls a tragic episode recorded among the earlier rowing annals of the house, Dr. Smith, afterward dean of Christchurch, when an undergraduate, went down to Ilfey with a friend in a skiff. His companion fell overboard and caught hold of the oar, and Smith explained, when he returned alone: "We would both have been drowned had I not, with great presence of mind, hit him on the head with a bookhook."—Westminster Gazette.

Some Duel Statistics.

More duels are fought in Germany than in any other country, and Jena and Göttingen are the cities which take the lead. It is said that a duel takes place in Göttingen every day, and on one occasion some years ago two duels took place in the twenty-four hours. Jena's greatest number for the day is twenty-one. The German empire has about 4,000 duels a year; France has about 1,000 combats which may be regarded as such. Italy runs to about 270 per annum. In ten years it boasted of 2,750 meetings of which 974 originated in newspaper articles or public letters. The great majority of the duels were fought with swords; only one with revolvers. Fall Mail Gazette.

Presence of Mind.

The victory of Christchurch at Oxford recalls a tragic episode recorded among the earlier rowing annals of the house, Dr. Smith, afterward dean of Christchurch, when an undergraduate, went down to Ilfey with a friend in a skiff. His companion fell overboard and caught hold of the oar, and Smith explained, when he returned alone: "We would both have been drowned had I not, with great presence of mind, hit him on the head with a bookhook."—Westminster Gazette.

Some Duel Statistics.

More duels are fought in Germany than in any other country, and Jena and Göttingen are the cities which take the lead. It is said that a duel takes place in Göttingen every day, and on one occasion some years ago two duels took place in the twenty-four hours. Jena's greatest number for the day is twenty-one. The German empire has about 4,000 duels a year; France has about 1,000 combats which may be regarded as such. Italy runs to about 270 per annum. In ten years it boasted of 2,750 meetings of which 974 originated in newspaper articles or public letters. The great majority of the duels were fought with swords; only one with revolvers. Fall Mail Gazette.

Presence of Mind.

The victory of Christchurch at Oxford recalls a tragic episode recorded among the earlier rowing annals of the house, Dr. Smith, afterward dean of Christchurch, when an undergraduate, went down to Ilfey with a friend in a skiff. His companion fell overboard and caught hold of the oar, and Smith explained, when he returned alone: "We would both have been drowned had I not, with great presence of mind, hit him on the head with a bookhook."—Westminster Gazette.

Some Duel Statistics.

More duels are fought in Germany than in any other country, and Jena and Göttingen are the cities which take the lead. It is said that a duel takes place in Göttingen every day, and on one occasion some years ago two duels took place in the twenty-four hours. Jena's greatest number for the day is twenty-one. The German empire has about 4,000 duels a year; France has about 1,000 combats which may be regarded as such. Italy runs to about 270 per annum. In ten years it boasted of 2,750 meetings of which 974 originated in newspaper articles or public letters. The great majority of the duels were fought with swords; only one with revolvers. Fall Mail Gazette.

Presence of Mind.

The victory of Christchurch at Oxford recalls a tragic episode recorded among the earlier rowing annals of the house, Dr. Smith, afterward dean of Christchurch, when an undergraduate, went down to Ilfey with a friend in a skiff. His companion fell overboard and caught hold of the oar, and Smith explained, when he returned alone: "We would both have been drowned had I not, with great presence of mind, hit him on the head with a bookhook."—Westminster Gazette.

Some Duel Statistics.

More duels are fought in Germany than in any other country, and Jena and Göttingen are the cities which take the lead. It is said that a duel takes place in Göttingen every day, and on one occasion some years ago two duels took place in the twenty-four hours. Jena's greatest number for the day is twenty-one. The German empire has about 4,000 duels a year; France has about 1,000 combats which may be regarded as such. Italy runs to about 270 per annum. In ten years it boasted of 2,750 meetings of which 974 originated in newspaper articles or public letters. The great majority of the duels were fought with swords; only one with revolvers. Fall Mail Gazette.

Presence of Mind.

The victory of Christchurch at Oxford recalls a tragic episode recorded among the earlier rowing annals of the house, Dr. Smith, afterward dean of Christchurch, when an undergraduate, went down to Ilfey with a friend in a skiff. His companion fell overboard and caught hold of the oar, and Smith explained, when he returned alone: "We would both have been drowned had I not, with great presence of mind, hit him on the head with a bookhook."—Westminster Gazette.

Some Duel Statistics.

More duels are fought in Germany than in any other country, and Jena and Göttingen are the cities which take the lead. It is said that a duel takes place in Göttingen every day, and on one occasion some years ago two duels took place in the twenty-four hours. Jena's greatest number for the day is twenty-one. The German empire has about 4,000 duels a year; France has about 1,000 combats which may be regarded as such. Italy runs to about 270 per annum. In ten years it boasted of 2,750 meetings of which 974 originated in newspaper articles or public letters. The great majority of the duels were fought with swords; only one with revolvers. Fall Mail Gazette.

Presence of Mind.

The victory of Christchurch at Oxford recalls a tragic episode recorded among the earlier rowing annals of the house, Dr. Smith, afterward dean of Christchurch, when an undergraduate, went down to Ilfey with a friend in a skiff. His companion fell overboard and caught hold of the oar, and Smith explained, when he returned alone: "We would both have been drowned had I not, with great presence of mind, hit him on the head with a bookhook."—Westminster Gazette.

Some Duel Statistics.

More duels are fought in Germany than in any other country, and Jena and Göttingen are the cities which take the lead. It is said that a duel takes place in Göttingen every day, and on one occasion some years ago two duels took place in the twenty-four hours. Jena's greatest number for the day is twenty-one. The German empire has about 4,000 duels a year; France has about 1,000 combats which may be regarded as such. Italy runs to about 270 per annum. In ten years it boasted of 2,750 meetings of which 974 originated in newspaper articles or public letters. The great majority of the duels were fought with swords; only one with revolvers. Fall Mail Gazette.

FOR RENT—ROOMS.

FOR RENT—2 furnished or unfurnished rooms, modern, water, 1016 Huntington st. Ind. phone 35.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping down stairs 708 E. 7th st.

FOR RENT—Pleasant furnished front room convenient to R. I. 308 Harrison.

Furnished south front room with privilege of light housekeeping. Mrs. Price, 612 W. 4th st. References required.

FOR RENT—3 nice corner rooms, one with large alcove suitable for general housekeeping. Modern house, good board given. 1900 Topeka ave.

FOR RENT—1 large modern housekeeping room 1200 Jackson st.

FOR RENT—1 unfurnished housekeeping room. Call 725 Quincy for information.

Good board and room at 523 Tyler street. Strictly modern house, $4.00 per week.

FOR RENT—3 modern rooms 1230 Jackson st. $7 per month. Phone 487.

FOR RENT—HOUSES.

FOR RENT—House 9 rooms, bath, etc. Also stable, 512 West 1st. Call for information. J. Thomas, 212 W. 6th st.

IS A POOR INVESTMENT. DESIRABLE RENTERS ARE DAILY READING THIS COLUMN.

AD. THE RESULTS WILL AFFIRM YOU.

FOR RENT—Cottage at 512 E. 12th st. W. E. Atchison, Columbian bldg. Ind. phone 87.

FOR RENT—7 room house 1334 Garfield ave. Key at 1238. Ind. 762.

—FINE HOME FOR RENT—11 rooms, large barn, on car line, close to center of city.

INQUIRE OF ANDERSON & GREENOUGH, 620 Kansas Ave. Ind. phone 1337. Bell 134.

FOR RENT—A modern flat, W. 6th st. They are fine and cheap. Ind. phone 6266.

CALL THE HOUSE AND ROOM LATER IF YOU WANT A HOUSE OR ROOM when you have a house or room to rent. 601 Kan. ave. Ind. phone 1383.

FOR RENT—Half of double house five rooms, 1019 Madison. Call 1204 Jackson st. In basement.

FOR RENT—When you want a house call up A. P. Wilson at 415 Kansas ave. Ind. phone 1284.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

Fine Gable upright piano, a high grade piano, at a very low price. Easy terms. W. F. ROHR MUSIC CO. 620 Kansas Avenue.

WANTED—100 second hand row boats. Pratt Bros., North Topeka.

FOR SALE—A nice clean up-to-date stock of groceries. 423 E. 1st st.

FOR SALE—Furniture, good as new. at 512 W. 4th st.

FOR SALE—Good Shorthorn milk cow, 14 mile east Gage's park on E. 6th st. Call after 5 p. m. Geo. W. Johnston.

FOR SALE—Top buggy, nearly new, fine shape. $40. 123 Topeka ave.

FOR SALE—A fine stylish surrey horse 6 years old. wt. about 1250 lbs. Call at 23 Davies st.

FOR SALE—Hardware and tin shop 1302 E. 6th st. No agents.

FOR SALE—Cheap, pony, harness and light delivery wagon; also good double harness. 1122 W. 10th. Phone 1122.

1 pianola and 35 rolls, $50. 1 Simplex player, 25 rolls, $150. Both in fine condition. Easy terms. W. F. ROHR MUSIC CO. 620 Kansas Avenue.

FOR SALE—Heavy team, wagon and harness, $350. Topeka Coal Co.

FOR SALE—At once, all kinds household goods. Leaving city. 200 Klein st.

FOR SALE—Good carriage. Call at